“ My experience at the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultural Studies paved the path to travel and leisure industry. It might seem far removed from textbooks, but my BA (Hons) in English actually provided the perfect foundation. The program honed my critical thinking skills, and broadened my knowledge base of cultures and histories, making me a more well-rounded travel professional today!

But the most valuable takeaway? The program's diverse range of voices I encountered in literature prepared me for the rich tapestry of cultures I experience every day in this industry. Thanks DoLLCS! ”

“ I am an Erasmus Mundus scholar enrolled in the course, 'Managing Art and Cultural Heritage in Global Markets.' at University of Glasgow (U.K.). Received a grant of 80,000 Euros by the European Union to pursue my research interest in the global art markets and cultural entrepreneurship, under the mentorship of the Smithsonian Institution and the Hunterian Museum. DoLLCS at MUJ, afforded me the academic freedom, resources and mentorship to pursue diverse research interests. The multidisciplinary curriculum and a rich network of professionals facilitated me in forging a career in a unique market. ”
