

MSC CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY
[POs AND PSOs 2023 onwards]

[PO1]. To encourage critical thinking and analytical skills in learners to enable them to evaluate and interpret psychological phenomenon.

[PO2]. To provide students with a deeper understanding of the theoretical and practical aspects of clinical psychology.

[PO3]. To enhance the ability to conduct and disseminate effective research and extend the knowledge base to the world of practice.

[PO4]. To provide students with opportunities for hands-on experience in various dimensions of clinical psychology such as assessment, diagnosis and interventions.

[PO5]. To prepare students for further academic pursuits, such as doctoral studies, as well as for various professional roles in the field, such as counseling, research, and teaching.

[PO6]. To foster students' ethical, moral, and professional values and attitudes towards the practice of psychology and to promote students' engagement with various community organizations and agencies for the betterment of society.

[PSO.1] Exhibit a working knowledge of basic principles, theories, models, methods and applications of clinical psychology and apply critical thinking and problem solving skills to complex clinical situations and ethical dilemmas.

[PSO.2]. Demonstrate competence in professional skills like teaching, clinical testing, supervision, intervention and consultation.

[PSO.3] Demonstrate competence in interpersonal skills and sensitivity in working and communicating with culturally diverse populations in the regional, national and global community.

[PSO.4]. Exhibit skills to conduct independent research in an ethical manner based on analysis and synthesis of data and demonstrate scholarly writing and presentation skills.